Stakeholder Meeting on Brownsville Preserve, Virginia

April 27, 2022, 3:00 - 4:30 PM

We would like to invite you to a virtual meeting with stakeholders in the Brownsville Preserve near Nassawadox, Virginia. In the Sustainability and Conservation Leadership program at ODU, the students in the Service Learning Course "Sustainability Leadership" have been carrying out a case study on Brownsville Preserve with a focus on utilizing the Brownsville Preserve to The Nature Conservancy as a climate adaptation and resilience classroom for Eastern Shore communities.

The Sustainability and Conservation Leadership program at ODU was developed over the last seven years in close collaboration with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. In this program, we developed a template that the student use for their case studies. Among others, the students map the relevant decision space, include stakeholder input in the development of a goal statement, look at the full spectrum of possible futures of the system they are considering, and after researching a number of possible interventions make specific recommendations for actions.

At the stakeholder meeting, the students will present their study and invite feedback from you. The URL for the Zoom meeting will be made available in due time.

Please, RSVP by email to hpplag@mari-odu.org to get the Zoom link.
