

Resilient Region Reality Check: Rising Above the Waters

On September 16, 2015 join Urban Land Institute Hampton Roads at the Mariners Museum (100 Museum Drive, Newport News, VA) with Dr. Hans Peter Plag and a number of distinguished guests to discuss the opportunity facing Hampton Roads in living with rising sea levels.

Will it happen? YES!

When will it happen? It's already begun!

This 5 hour event will be held on September 16, 2015 (10a – 3p) at the Mariners' Museum 100 Museum Drive, Newport News, VA 23601 (757) 596-2222, with lunch served. This event will provide attendees with the opportunity to hear from experts on matters of how other regions are realizing and dealing with several topics such as:

- Where are we most vulnerable?
- How to build for the future.
- Adaptive materials, building codes, systems.
- Global comparisons.
- Creating a proactive regional posture.
- Transportation impacts.
- Communication impacts.
- Creating a global knowledge base in Hampton Roads.

Come listen to the experts.

Come hear a panel discussion along with a question/answer session.

Help to shape the future of our region.

Come be a part of determining the future of Hampton Roads.

Participating Sponsors with ULI Hampton Roads;

1. Location Sponsor: Mariners' Museum, Newport News
2. Promotion Sponsor: Peninsula Chamber of Commerce

More sponsorship opportunities available.

Admission cost $15 for lunch and beverages.

Register for the event at: Sept 16, 2015 Sea Level Rise Event Registration

For question, contact Dan Bell – 757-373-6517, danbell@verizon.net

